COMMUNICATION.

"NAPOLEON IS OUR KING."

The article from the Aurora in the last number of the Pittsburgh Gazette, is well calculated to make an awful and solemn impression. I have never hesitated to believe that the majority of our noisy demagogues were either traitors, or made of such materials as could easily be moulded into traitors of the worst stamp. They somewhat resemble certain military characters of past years, who would fight today under one flag and to-morrow under another. It appears to me that the virtue, spirit and patriotism of the country are asleep; though I firmly believe they still exist in a latent state, and to such a degree as would make them awfully terrible when aroused into action. That if once the cry "the sword of the Lord and of Washington" was echoed from the Atlantic to the Mississippi, from the Lakes to the Floridas, it would appal the heart of the destroyer of nations, even of Napoleon.

It appears that the editor of the Evening Post, when he published his remarks, had not seen the publication in The Whig recommending an hereditary President. Taking all the articles upon the subject into view, it really seems to be a very serious affair. The Aurora in the strongest terms recommends a union with France; the Whig proposes an hereditary president—the Aurora again (in a very concealed and insidious way) gives the countersign "NAPOLEON IS OUR KING." And that he will be so there is little doubt unless the people rouse from their slumbers and appear, and act, and feel as they did in the days of Washington. They must set aside the pretended patriots, and select real patriots to manage their public concerns.

There is an extraordinary circumstance in the coincidence of the number of letters in "Napoleon is our King," (17) and the number of the states of which the union is composed. At the time of our revolution the then 13 states made the number of Washington's name in the usual way of contracting George.

GEO. WASHINGTON
1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13

Some appear surprised that the subjects of Napoleon did not place the verses quoted in their proper order; but this is very easily accounted for, as the thing would have been too easily detected—the countersign would have been discovered.

Capture of Guadaloupe, by the British.

NEW-YORK, February 28.

Captain Telford, of the ship Phœnix, and captain Fowler, of the ship Louisa Cecelia, (the former vessel belonging to James Johnston and the captain, and the other to Jonathan Ogden, one bound to Gijon and the other to Lisbon, and sunk at sea by the French) arrived here yesterday, via St. Bartholomews, in 21 days from Guadaloupe.

These gentlemen inform the editors of the New-York Gazette, that on the 26th, 27th, and 28th of January, the British troops under the command of Gen. Beckwith and Admiral Cochrane, completed their landing on the south side of the island, near Basseterre. The disembarkation was effected without interruption, and the weather being fine, no accident occurred.

On the 3d of February, at five in the morning, the British attacked the French at Maccoubac, about six miles from Basseterre. The battle continued till eleven, when there was a cessation till one, when it was renewed with encreased violence, and lasted till dark.

At day light the next morning, the bloody conflict again began, and lasted without intermission till 8; at which time the French white flags were hoisted on all the posts, as a signal for capitulation.

At one o'clock of the 4th, adm. Cochrane landed, and with several officers, went into the French camp, and remained there till 8 in the morning of the 6th, when he proceeded to Basseterre, where he arrived about 10. Here, in the presence of captains Telford and Fowler, admiral Cochrane observed to some of his officers, that the whole island had capitulated to the British, and that the articles of capitulation were signed that morning at 8 o'clock.

The report was, that the loss of the English was about 500 killed and wounded. The loss of the French was not known, but it was certain, however, that it must have been great, as only five men of three grenadier companies (some of Bonaparte's invincibles) survived. Every post was taken by storm, at the point of the bayonet; and the fighting was most desperate.

The French had in the engagement 100 brass pieces of artillery. Their numbers had not been ascertained. The British army, besides seamen and marines, consisted of 7 or 8000 men. We further learn, that the English were immediately to proceed against St. Eustatia, Saba and St. Martins. Where will the poor privateersmen find a lurking place?

From the New-York Gazette of yesterday.

LOSS OF THE SHIPS LOUISA CECELIA AND THE PHOENIX.

The masters of the above vessels, captains Telford and Fowler, arrived here yesterday in 21 days from Guadaloupe.—They sailed from this port, the former for Lisbon, and the latter for Gijon, early in November. Captain Telford was captured on the 23d, and captain Fowler on the 26th of the same month, in sight of Corvo, by four French frigates from Nantz, bound to Guadaloupe, and captain F. was boarded by the Clorenda frigate, commanded by Alexander St. Crique. Captain F. was immediately taken out of the ship, and, with his crew, sent on board the frigate, and the Louisa Cecelia scuttled, and sunk, with her cargo on board. Captain F. was put down in the fore peak under three decks, to mess with the boatswain, and his crew in the hold with English prisoners. He remained in this dark filthy hole till the 7th December, when himself and crew were put on board the Loire frigate, and there put down between decks with other prisoners, where he remained four days, till after the capture of the British frigate Juno, when, there not being room for all the prisoners he was permitted by his pressing solicitations, to go into the gun room.

On board the Clorenda, the thirteen American prisoners were only allowed for their subsistence, what was given to 7 English prisoners, which was 6 ounces of meat, a pound of bread, and a pint of water per day—that while the Americans were treated with cruelty and contempt, the English captains, mates and passengers, whom they had taken, messed most sumptuously with the French officers.—The Loire and the Seine arrived at a small place to the northward of Basseterre on the 17th of December, where they were chased by nine British ships of war. Here all the prisoners were landed, and marched to Basseterre, a distance of 15 miles along shore, over hills, across creeks, &c. About a week after, the American seamen were all taken up and put in prison, but the officers were paroled. The English prisoners were allowed half a guinea a day to subsist on, while the Americans were refused a single cent—they often applied for some relief, but they applied in vain.

The situation of captain Telford and his crew was exactly similar to that of captain Fowler. These gentlemen remained at Guadaloupe till the 6th inst. when they got a passage to Antigua, and thence to St. Bartholomews. They left there on the 9th instant, and arrived yesterday in the brig Astrea. Their unfortunate crews were left in prison at Guadaloupe, but it is supposed they would be released by the English.

Captains T. and F. were informed by the captain of the Clorenda frigate, that the emperor had issued his orders to destroy every American vessel they met with on pain of death, and said it was his determination to go to war with the U. States, unless they declared war against England.

From the (Philadelphia) REGISTER.

MR. BAYARD, in the senate of the U. States on the offers of the Spanish patriots to the president, through chevalier don Onis, the new minister.

It is with no small surprise, as well as concern for my country, that I witnessed, as a spectator, what passed in the senate of the United States, on the appropriation bill, particularly as to the provision for foreign intercourse.

" Mr. Bayard rose and enquired of the chairman who reported the bill, if the appropriation for foreign intercourse did not include a provision for a minister to Spain. On being answered in the affirmative, he moved to expunge that provision, and supported his motion by the following observations. Mr. B. stated it as a matter of public notoriety, that the government of Spain, the Junta, had sent a minister to this country ; he now stated what was not so well known to the country, but a fact of which he was well informed, that this minister of the Junta, was vested with full power to settle all the differences between this country and Spain, and particularly that he was authorised to offer our government an indemnity for spoilations committed on our commerce under Spanish authority, to the extent of eight millions of dollars, and to settle the western boundaries of Louisiana, and the question of title to West Florida.

Mr. Bayard added that he presumed, that all this was well known to the administration, but that gentlemen in the secrets of the cabinet (turning his eyes upon Mr. Giles,) could furnish the senate with authentic information on the subject. This minister, with such powers and the best intentions towards the United States, the administration had decided not to receive, least it might give offence to king Joseph. He should forbear, at this time, all observations on the policy and propriety of the measure. He did not question the power of the administration to decide in the case, and they, having refused a minister from Spain, he considered as deciding not to employ a minister in Spain—That sending a minister to either of the contending parties equally recognized the legitimacy of this power with receiving a minister from either."

The appropriation was retained. This statement of Mr. Bayard was not denied by the friends of the administration, nor indeed from what I have since learned, can it be questioned. The appeal is now solemnly made to the people of the United States on this strange and unaccountable proceedings of the administration towards the Spanish minister. Let every man, who is not ptepared to yield up his country with all its comforts and blessings to the French emperor, that despoiler of nations, read, pause and reflect on this mysterious transaction.—Whatever dominion Bonaparte may acquire in Spain, it can never reach Spanish America, which is all important to the United States—" there is something rotten in the state of Denmark." The nation that does or forbears to do an act for fear of another, is no longer independent.—These things must have an end.

Dr. Robertson's
CELEBRATED
STOMACHIC ELIXIR OF HEALTH;
(Price One Dollar and Fifty Cents.)

Which has proved by thousands, who have experienced its beneficial effects, to be the most valuable medicine ever offered to the public, for speedily relieving and curing the cramp, pains, and wind in the stomach and bowels, carrying off superfluous bile, removing habitual costiveness, sickness at the stomach, severe head ache, etc.

For the dysentery or lax, cholera morbus, severe gripings, and other diseases of the bowels, and the summer bowel complaint in children, it has proved a certain remedy, and restored to perfect health from the greatest debility.

Persons afflicted with pulmonary complaints, or disorders of the breast and lungs, even in the most advanced state, will find immediate relief.

Common coughs and colds, which are generally occasioned by obstructed perspiration, will be found to yield to its benign influence in a few hours.

In asthmatic or consumptive complaints, hoarseness, wheesings, shortness of breath, and the hooping cough, it will give immediate relief.

Dr. Robertson's
VEGETABLE NERVOUS CORDIAL,
OR NATURE'S GRAND RESTORATIVE.
(Price One Dollar and Fifty Cents.)

It is confidently recommended, as the most efficacious medicine, for the speedy relief and cure of all nervous complaints, impurities of the blood, seminal weaknesses, and various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, residence in warm climates, the immoderate use of tea, the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, and diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life.

Under the denomination of nervous disorders, in its full extent, are included several diseases of the most dangerous kind, and are so various that a volume would hardly suffice to complete a description of them. It pervades with its baleful influence the whole nervous system, writhing the heart with inexpressible anguish, and exciting the most dreadful suggestions of horror and despair. To this demon have thousands fallen a sacrifice, in the direful transports of its rage.

The most common symptoms at its commencement, are weakness, flatulence, palpitations, watchfulness, drowsiness after eating, timidity, flashes of heat and cold, numbness, cramp, giddiness, pains in the head, back, and loins, hickup, difficulty of respiration and deglutition, anxiety, dry cough, etc.

Since doctor Robertson's first discovery of this invaluable medicine, upwards of two hundred thousand persons have experienced its happy and salutary effects, many of whom had been reduced to the last stage, and given up all hopes of recovering.

PATENT
STOMACHIC WINE BITTERS.
(Price One Dollar.)

These celebrated and well known Bitters, are composed purely of vegetables of the most innocent yet specific virtues, and are particularly recommended for restoring weak constitutions, cleansing and strengthening the stomach, and increasing the appetite; they expel worms in all ages, but from their simplicity and safety, are a most natural and effectual vermifuge, when administered to children; they are gratefully warm, and pungently aromatic; they are extremely serviceable in all seasons, but particularly so on the approach of warm weather, when bilious habits experience such total loss of appetite; they are also a certain preventative against those complaints so common in the spring and fall seasons, such as intermittent fevers and agues, long autumnal fevers, dysenteries, etc.

Dr. Robertson's
CELEBRATED

Since the above invaluable medicines were first discovered by doctor Robertson, upwards of seven hundred thousand persons have experienced their happy and salutary effects, many of whom from the greatest debility.

As the certificates attested by many respectable persons are too numerous for this paper, the proprietor requests the reader to persue the pamphlet accompanying the medicines, which may be had gratis at the places of sale.

CERTIFICATE

Of the Rev. Dr. Jones, pastor of the Baptist Church, and late chaplain to gen. Wayne.

Chester county, July 21, 1809.

SIR—you may be surprised at my delay in giving a certificate of the great efficacy of Dr. Robertson's Stomachic Elixir of Health. The chief reason of the delay, was to have more opportunities of its efficacy. I will state my own case:—In April 1807, I was seized with a violent influenza which baffled all medicines I could think of, I bled largely, but found no relief, at last I purchased a bottle of the Elixer, it relieved me very much, and another bottle completely cured me; I then recommended it to others, troubled with coughs, and I do not remember one instance, in which it has failed; I think it my duty to recommend it to the citizens of the United States, as the best medicine that ever came under my notice.

DAVID JONES.
Dr. T. W. Dyott, Philadelphia.

Extract of a letter from the Rev. Wm. Ayres, late rector of St. George's Paris, Accomac, Virginia.

Philadelphia, Aug. 7th, 1809.

Dear Sir—Providentially I have taken dr. Robertson's Vegetable Nervious Cordial, or Nature's Grand Restorative, a sufficient time to find relief in a nervous disease; I have since recommended your medicines to several of my acquaintance who have been much relieved by them; I shall endeavor to introduce them into all the families which I am acquainted: I believe them to be good: and I sm satisfied, after their first trial, they will never be laid aside for any other medicine.

WM. AYRES,
No. 112, north Fifth street.
Dr. T. W. Dyott.

Extract of a letter from the Rev. Dr. HAMILTON.

I have been for six years past afflicted with the rheumatism in my neck and shoulders; at times the pain was so excruciating as to prevent me lying down in bed. After having every advice, without finding any relief, I was advised to make a trial of doct. Robertson's Gout and rheumatic drops, which I declare have entirely removed the pain, and I now enjoy better health than I have done for a number of years.

It is six months since I had any rheumatic pain. I have recommended the above drops to some of my friends, who have been greatly relieved by them.

(Signed) G. HAMILTON, D. D.

FROM BALTIMORE.
To Dr. Dyott, Philadelphia.

SIR—I am happy to have it my power to procure you a certificate of the good effects produced by DR. Robertson's Stomachic Elixir of Health, in the case of *Mr. D*avis, of which is the following, viz.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Lewis *D*avis.

Baltimore, June 17th 1809.

SIR—I was afflicted with a cough, pain in my side and breast, for upwards of five months which rendered me scarcely capable of transacting my business—when, fortunately, I saw an advertisement of DR. Robertson's celebrated Stomachic Elixer of Health, I purchased a bottle at your store, in order to give it a trial, and to my great consolation found my cough abate; pains in my side and limbs entirely gone, and my breast freed from an obstruction that prevented my expanding my lungs, so that I could not fetch full breath. Upwards of three months have elapsed, and no return of any of the above complaints, and thank God, am now as well as ever I was in my life. You are at liberty to make what use you please of this letter, for the benefit of the public.

I am sir, your most obedient, &c.
